Time is precious, dealing with financial forms isn't.

Your Mission

A key member of the Armalytix team, you will be involved in the development and operation of the Armalytix platform. You will work closely with colleagues as part of a cross disciplinary technology team to help us to deliver a fast, scalable and intuitive platform that delivers on the Company's mission.

A bit about you

- You will be an experienced platform engineer with a track record of developing and managing cloud infrastructure and use of Terraform/IAC (AWS is our preference but experience of other cloud providers is welcomed)
- You will be familiar with managing and administering a Kubernetes based ecosystem and be familiar with products such as Istio, Gloo, the Hashicorp suite, Prometheus and Grafana.
- You will be well versed in cloud/infrastructure security.
- You enjoy problem solving. You are data driven and have a passion for delivering continuous improvement across the platform.
- You enjoy interacting with clients, customers and staff across the company.

What it will take

- You understand security and the risks in delivering consumer facing software.
- You understand how deliver an "always on" service that's capable of scaling and meeting growing business demands.
- You can diagnose, troubleshoot and engineer solutions to operational issues.

- You enjoy working in a start-up where your contribution and impact makes all the difference.
- You have the ambition to take on larger roles as the company continues to grow.
- You're a great communicator who's at home interacting with clients and partners at any level.
